

COPY OF FORM 990

(TO BE USED, OR COPIED, FOR)

PUBLIC INSPECTION ONLY

NOTE

Under Internal Revenue Regulations, tax-exempt charitable organizations generally must provide requesters with COPIES of:

- Its approved exemption applications, all required attachments and any related correspondence with the IRS, and
- Its three most recent annual information returns (Form 990), including all schedules and attachments (but not the names and addresses of contributors).

In-person requests: A member of the public may request to inspect the documents at any principal office of the organization. The entity must provide the information requested that same day. However, if the request places an “unreasonable burden” on the organization, the staff must provide copies of the requested information no later than the next business day after the unusual circumstances cease to exist (limited to a maximum of five business days after the request).

Written requests: Written requests made by fax, mail, email, or overnight service, which include the requester’s address, must be honored within 30 days of receipt.

Website alternative: Instead of providing copies, an organization may make the documents available on either its own or another organization's website. If it uses this option, it has to: (1) provide an exact replica of the document as was filed with the IRS; (2) advise requesters how to access the forms on the web; (3) the site should charge no access fee and require no special software or hardware to download. Organizations that post this information on the Internet still must honor in-person requests to view the applicable documents.

Permissible charges: Tax-exempt organizations may charge a reasonable copying fee, up to $1 for the first page and 15 cents for each additional page, plus actual postage costs.

Penalties: An organization that fails to comply with the new disclosure requirements may be subject to the following penalties:

- Annual Information Return – Form 990 - $20 per day for as long as the failure continues, up to a maximum of $10,000 for each failure to provide an annual return.
- Exemption Application - $20 per day with no maximum.
- An organization that willfully fails to comply with these public inspection rules can be subject to an additional $5,000 penalty.

Private foundation exempt: The new disclosure rules don't yet apply to private foundations. They must still make a copy of their annual return available for public inspection at their principal office for a period of 180 days after publishing a notice of availability.

Donor Information: Please note that donor information is not open to public inspection and has been excluded from this copy.

ILAD personnel also spend considerable amounts of time in-person with grantees to see and observe first-hand how the funds are used and the programs developed. In addition, ILAD requires grantees to provide both financial and narrative reports on the use of grant funds on at least an annual basis.

Part I, line 3:

Foreign expenditures are accounted for using the accrual basis of accounting, consistent with US Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. ILAD uses expense reports and other appropriate substantiating documentation to track foreign expenditures as they occur.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

Literacy: In 2021, ILAD increased the number of mobile libraries from 12 to 15, serving 750 minority language speakers across two countries.

Three schools also use the literature provided by these libraries to teach in the local language.

In another West African country, 43 adult women graduated from a local language literacy program designed for those who could not read or write in any language.

Agricultural training: Nearly 1,500 local farmers have adopted the innovative organic pineapple production methods being taught on ILAD's self-sustaining demonstration farm. Multiple, village-based, small-farm co-ops are trained and in operation. The agriculture project has expanded to include teaching pond culture tilapia raising, animal husbandry, and crop diversification. In 2021, 43 new co-operatives were trained in organic pineapple farming and 8 local farmers were trained in multiple farming and animal husbandry disciplines at the demonstration farm.

Social business: ILAD is supporting the creation of local businesses to provide fair market prices for agricultural products. These businesses generated over 50 full-time jobs for local people.

Business Education: In the fall of 2021, eight budding entrepreneurs were the inaugural class of a new Business Development Center designed to equip them with knowledge and tools to run ethical, profitable, relevant businesses in their communities that provide economic and social benefits.

Microfinance: ILAD offers financial services such as savings and micro loans through a rural agricultural development program. 672 people are in the savings plan and 74 new loans were given in 2021, resulting in a substantial increase in income for the participants.

Education: ILAD assists students by providing necessary school supplies. In 2021, approximately 1,093 rural schoolchildren received supplies and were able to attend school. ILAD was also involved in the expansion of Jr./Sr. School in a village that formerly could not provide education beyond grade school. The Jr./Sr. school enrolled over 100 students and nearly half were girls. The passing rate was 98%.

In a different West Africa location, a grafted cashew orchard is in development and 3 villages were educated in the benefits of grafted cashew trees. One village also received perennial bean seeds to begin a garden initiative to provide for their community.

In the Middle East, ILAD staff is focused on literacy and life-skills education among an overlooked, underserved minority language group.

Micro enterprise: Six women entrepreneurs were involved in creating and running a jewelry micro-enterprise that provides steady income for their families.

Social: Five men participated in a seminar to learn how to strengthen their relationships with their wives and children.

Dallas, Texas, is home to a large refugee population, many of whom speak minority languages with no access to written or audio texts in their primary language. ILAD works with the Rohingya refugee community in the areas of ESL, literacy, citizenship, and health education. ILAD is also involved in preserving and promoting the Rohingya language and is currently collecting language data to be used in the production of a Rohingya dictionary and the development of apps for smartphones and computers.

ESL and Citizenship: 30 Rohingya refugee families participated in ESL and Citizenship Classes. Nine of those participants were eligible for and passed the US citizenship exam.

Literacy and Education: ILAD created a YouTube channel that hosts videos covering a variety of important topics as well as English learning tools all in the Rohingya language. There are over 175 subscribers.

began developing curriculum to address prevalent health concerns in the Rohingya community. A community wide seminar was conducted regarding women's health and reproduction and a video addressing diabetes was published on the Rohingya YouTube channel.

In addition, ILAD was able to support other NGO's aiding Afghan refugees by providing 100 picture dictionaries and coloring books for children upon their arrival in Dallas, TX.

Finally, working in partnership with other agencies, ILAD contributed to the production of a Rohingya dictionary and collected language data to be used in the development of translation apps in 2022.

Central Asia: In 2021 ILAD continued conducting classes for students wishing to improve their business English. The coronavirus restrictions limited the number of students served by the school, but ILAD was able to serve 27 students during 2021.

Education: Local language health education videos were created for non-literate, under-resourced language communities that struggle with communicable diseases and hygiene practices.

Language Technology through data collection, app development, and the creation of translation development tools, with the goal of providing access to information to these language communities through machine translation.

Southeast Asia: In 2021, ILAD launched a Language Technology Center created to empower under-resourced language communities to participate in the global exchange of ideas and information. One dictionary app has been developed, and language data is being collected to facilitate machine translation from a minority language into a majority language.

In Asia, North Africa, Southeast Asia and the Arabian Peninsula ILAD staff are in various stages of language and culture research, market analysis, and project development.

Coronavirus has impacted the timeline of implementation for some projects in these regions, but research, project design, and education continued through 2021.
